The imperial yacht Foenzol ern arrived at Sheerness five minutes earlier than had been expected, and was a ongside the pier before the special train bearing the welcoming narty arrivec. Al the British princes were German military uniforms and the kaiser was arrayed in the uniform of an Englishadmiral. The large crowd, which was kept at a distance by the police, were strangely silent, making but signt comonstration in the greeting to the emperor. He received the princes on the lower deck, shaking hands with the Prince of Wales and presenting him with a xiss, the other part of the ceremony being omitted because of the Duke of Edinburgh, but included again in the we come of the Dure of Connagni. The empress received the party on the upper deck, and uncheon was then served in the salon while the band played Prussian airs. The trains started ag i an hour later. Immediately after breastast I went over to the modes: frame building on the west side of the railroad station, which is known as the "Keeley Institute," and where all patients repair four times a day to receive a rypodermic injection in the upper left arm, which is a part of the regular treatment. A teaspoonful of this mixture in a quarter of a glass of water is to be taken every two nours while the patient is awake, and the hypotermies are acministered at 8 a.m., noon, 5 p. m., and 7.30 p. m.

in ten years Dr. Leslie L. Keeley, a practicing physician of the allopathic school and surgeon of the Chicago and A fon rai road, has been at work with his cure for dipsomania. The world has not heard of him because ais nants were 'u lu' business, and ne preferred to be known through the results he had effected. Since 1880 he has had between 5,000 and 6,000 patients, and of these 95 per cenr. are reported as permant cures.

reard this before I came; Theard it again from the people who have lived at Dwight all these years; it was repeated to me by the patients whom I found here, and by visitors who had been under treatment during the last decade, and I have never yet met a person who denied the stat mentior coubtcd if. As I heard it repeated by my guide of that morning, who piloted me through rain and mud in search of shelter, + marveled at the aith which had led a New Yorker out into the widerness-or upon one prairie -and yet leould find no room to tarbor a

The infux of patients into Dwight, found, had of late been lapit. In Capuary, of this year, the average was seventy-five. Two months later it had reached 100, and curing the five weeks which I passed there the number accanced to 250, now 300. One patient had advertised the good work to another; some remarkable cures had been effected among prominent politicians and newspaper men of Chicago; the statements tocy made had crept into print in The Caicago Tribune and challenged inquiry, and men was and suffered from capsomania were giac to try something that cic not smack of bolts, bars, monastic secusion, or comput-Bory religiosity mixed with promide.

The sevent of this increasing regiment of pi grims taxed the accommodations of Dwig it to the utmost; everybody was asked ta take boarders, and two beds in a room was the rule. Yet nebedy grumbled. I was fortunate enough to find a room as the cottage of she town marena, Mr. Austin, and there we grew in numbers from six to sixteen at table before lieft. a stand in the sixting room, which held bottles, glasses, pitchers and spoons, reminded us of our regularly recurring dose of double chloride, and four times a day there was a shout and summons and then the procession moved to: the central office. All this was strange as first, but at the end of a day I had fallen into the routine, and found it natural to get into line, pull of the left sleeve of my coan, roll up the shirt sleeve to the elbow and receive the hypodermic through a sin that had been cut in the sleeve of underspirt. Sometimes the needle was handled by Dr. Recley himse. , but usua_y the operation was performed. by one of the two physicians who have been trained under his eye, and as each patient passes the operator his pulse is feet by Dr. Keeley, and usually with a work of criticism or encouragement.

Prouga this process I passed for four weeks without a break. The result was an entire surprise, so far as my physica, experience was concerned. Coming as 7 did I bosed only for the quiet operation of a tonic. But the resut' was revolutionary.' After a few cays I was ready to report invaliced, and a week's time I feet the need of stimulants. To Dr. See ey I said that if I were elsewhere than in temperance village of Dwig to I should feel like to sing a Crinic. Wirnous a work he took me to a back office, poured out a generous glass of whiser, and to dime to drink it. Diougn surprised, I did so. The strangest thing about it was that instead of my feeling an appetite for more riquor afterwards I did not experience the slightest desire for it and did not even mins of it. Next cay at the same hour, 2 o'c.ocs, box another dose of which and that ended it. I could not have taken any more, . Cic not want it but abhorred it.
